OKLAHOMA STATE UNIVERSITY

Commencement

MAY 9 AND 10, 2025

In the late 1800s, Vermont congressman Justin Smith Morrill saw a need for a new higher education model — one focused on practical skills and accessible to more Americans. President Abraham Lincoln agreed, signing the Land-Grant College Act of 1862, also known as the “Morrill Act” — launching a national network of public universities dedicated to serving their states. That act laid the foundation for what would become Oklahoma State University.

OSU’s story began on Christmas Eve, 1890, when Territorial Gov. George W. Steele signed legislation establishing an Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College in Payne County. OAMC’s first students assembled for class on Dec. 14, 1891, though there weren’t any buildings, books or curriculum. The college’s first students attended classes in the Stillwater Congregational Church. The original campus consisted of 200 acres of prairie donated by four local homesteaders. The college’s first six graduates received their diplomas in 1896.

OSU grew rapidly following World War II. The post-war years were marked by an enrollment surge and the “Veteran’s Village” on the northwest edge of campus. The mid-1940s were a golden era for athletics at OAMC. Coaches and players from that era are sports legends. Coach Henry Iba set a national standard in men’s basketball and Edward Gallagher took OAMC wrestling teams to international prominence.

By the 1950s, the college had grown substantially. In 1957, OAMC became Oklahoma State University for Agriculture and Applied Science. During the next three decades, OSU built academic programs to match its new status. OSU eventually became a statewide university system, adding branches in Okmulgee in 1946 and Oklahoma City in 1961. OSU merged with the Oklahoma College of Osteopathic Medicine in 1988 to create the OSU Center for Health Sciences, and OSU-Tulsa was born in 1999. In 2024, OSU saw a record-setting first-time freshman class (5,030 students) and the highest-ever enrollment on the Stillwater and Tulsa campuses (26,805). With total OSU System enrollment nearing 36,000 students across five campuses, OSU remains the largest university system in the state.

Visitors to the campus often marvel at its beauty and architecture. Much of the credit goes to legendary president Henry G. Bennett, who served from 1928-51. Dr. Bennett’s 25-year campus master plan envisioned Edmon Low Library and the OSU Student Union. During his tenure, OSU President Burns Hargis guided unprecedented construction that made OSU more competitive in academics and athletics. In October 2019, OSU opened The McKnight Center for the Performing Arts with a performance from the New York Philharmonic. In fall 2024, the new Agricultural Hall opened.

Currently, the university is striving to become the preeminent land-grant university. This bold, universitywide effort includes measurable and ambitious goals, designed to meet the needs of students, families and Oklahoma’s workforce. Focus remains on advancing land-grant values — improving lives across Oklahoma and beyond. From feeding global communities and developing energy solutions, to strengthening national defense through OSU’s UAS (drone) program and promoting better health outcomes, OSU leads meaningful progress.

Today, OSU has a presence in every Oklahoma county through its Extension offices and experiment stations. From six graduates in 1896 to 5,000 annually today, the small college on the prairie has prospered far beyond the dreams of its founders. Rooted in our land-grant tradition and united by the Cowboy Code, OSU’s teaching, research, Extension and graduates are making a bigger impact on the lives of people around the world than ever before. It’s a great time to be a Cowboy!

MESSAGE FROM THE OSU ALUMNI ASSOCIATION PRESIDENT

To the Class of 2025,

Congratulations on your remarkable achievements! Completing your degrees from Oklahoma State University is no small feat, and as the Cowboy Code reminds us — we finish what we start. You've shown that being a Cowboy isn't in our clothes; it's in our character.

Your journey as a Cowboy doesn't end at graduation — it's only just beginning. That's why the OSU Alumni Association is here to support you. With more than 263,000 fellow graduates around the world, you're now part of an incredible global family.

Before you leave campus, I encourage you to download the Orange Connection app and explore the section designed especially for new graduates. It's a great way to stay informed and involved. You'll also learn about one of the best ways to remain connected to OSU — membership in the Alumni Association.

Through the Alumni Association, you can access valuable services such as job search assistance, connections with alumni chapters across the country, and regular updates about what's happening back in Stillwater. We also offer virtual programming for alumni and fans to enjoy from anywhere.

We're excited to serve you in this next chapter and beyond. Welcome to the alumni family!

Go Pokes!

Oklahoma

Written by Oscar Hammerstein II

Music by Richard Rodgers

Oklahoma, where the wind comes sweepin' down the plain,
And the wavin' wheat can sure smell sweet
When the wind comes right behind the rain.
Oklahoma, ev'ry night my honey lamb and I
Sit alone and talk and watch a hawk makin' lazy circles in the sky
We know we belong to the land
And the land we belong to is grand!
And when we say -Yeeow! A-yip-i-o-ee-ay!
We're only sayin' You're doin' fine, Oklahoma!
Oklahoma - O.K.

UNDERGRADUATE CEREMONIES COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Kyle Hilbert

Oklahoma Speaker of the House

Kyle Hilbert was elected the 45th Speaker of the Oklahoma House of Representatives in January 2025. He is the state representative for Oklahoma House District 29, which contains parts of Creek and Tulsa counties. Kyle, his wife, Alexis, and two young daughters live in Bristow, Oklahoma.

He attended Oklahoma State University, where he earned a bachelor's degree in agribusiness and a master's in business administration. While at OSU, Hilbert served as Student Government Association president. In Hilbert's eight-year tenure in the House, he has authored over 40 bills that have been signed into law. He authored the DRIVE Act, which brought the state's transportation funding into the 21st century, while simultaneously leading the modernization of Oklahoma's ad valorem tax reimbursement system and the creation of the Redbud School Funding Act, which directs a portion of revenue generated from marijuana taxes to school districts with below-average local property taxes for infrastructure needs.

Before he was elected Speaker, he served three sessions as the speaker pro tempore of the Oklahoma House of Representatives. He spent three years as vice chair of the Appropriations and Budget Committee, where he helped get Oklahoma's budget in better shape than it has ever been and made the budget negotiation process more transparent than ever.

Hilbert, 30, is the youngest House speaker in Oklahoma state history and only the second Republican speaker 30 years old or younger in any state since 1873.

The list of spring degree candidates was prepared before final grades were reported, and inclusion herein does not constitute evidence of graduation. Final action to ensure an accurate listing of names of all persons qualified for degrees could not be compiled before this program went to print. The listing of a name in this program should not be construed as an indication that the person will in fact receive a spring degree from Oklahoma State University. Conversely, the absence of a student's name from this list does not necessarily mean the person will not be awarded a degree. Final certification of degree and academic distinction will be made by the Colleges and the Registrar after candidates have completed all degree requirements.

GRADUATION WITH DISTINCTION

The following final grade-point-average distinctions are determined at degree completion and will appear on undergraduate diplomas and transcripts:

Additional Fall 2024 Degree Recipients

OSU fall degree candidates are invited to participate in the OSU fall commencement ceremony, and their names are listed in the fall commencement book. This section recognizes these degree recipients, some of whom will participate in today's ceremony.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The robes, hats and hoods worn by faculty members and graduates as they march into the commencement hall, and even the different colors you see on them, have historical origins and significance.

During the Middle Ages, scholars at the earliest English and European universities wore wool or fur garments to stay warm in the drafty, stone buildings that were poorly heated. Most of the scholars were also monks or priests, and as such had the hair shaved from the crowns of their heads in the distinctive clerical tonsure. Most wore cloaks that included a hood that could be pulled up to keep their heads warm. The academic gowns and hoods were adapted from both secular and clerical garments of the time, and the hood was chosen by the early scholars to indicate by color, trim or binding the degree held by the wearer.

The style of academic dress most frequently worn in the United States dates back to colonial times, although it was not formally adopted until near the end of the 19th Century, when it was chosen as appropriate attire by the Intercollegiate Commission during a meeting in New York. It has remained the general standard in America since, although some variations occur at individual institutions. In the United States, black is the traditional color for academic gowns, although some institutions allow holders of doctoral degrees to wear robes in the university's colors.

The sleeves of the robes vary, depending on the degree held by the wearer. The bachelor's robe has long, pointed sleeves. The master's robe has sleeves that are oblong and closed at the ends, with slits through which the arms may be extended. The doctoral robe has a full sleeve with a velvet facing on the front and at the neck, and three velvet bars on each sleeve. The velvet may be black or of a color that symbolizes the degree held by the wearer.

The head covering most commonly used in the United States is the square, tasseled "mortarboard." Some American universities, however, use berets, and in other countries a variety of styles of head coverings is worn with academic regalia. The tassel is usually black and is worn over the left front quarter of the mortarboard. Holders of doctoral degrees may wear gold tassels.

The hood is the most distinctive feature of American academic dress, which through color and design may indicate the wearer's degree and the institution at which that degree was earned. Hoods are lined with the colors of the institution that awards the degree, and may be faced with the color designating the degree awarded. Hoods vary in length. The bachelor's hood is about three feet long, the master's slightly longer and the doctoral version is longer still and is decorated with broad color panels.

The colors of Oklahoma State University are embodied in the lining of the hood (orange and black chevron). The colors of the hoods of faculty and guests are those of the institution conferring the degree. In addition to the academic regalia described above, some students wear cords, sashes, ribbons, and other symbols of heritage or achievement in academics, service, and leadership.

Candidates for advanced or professional degrees wear hoods symbolic of the degree. The color of the trim of the hood and the sleeve chevrons and panels of the academic gown are distinctive of the degree as follows:

Degree	Gown	Hood
Doctor of Philosophy	Black Velvet Panels	Blue Velvet Collar and Sleeve Chevrons
Doctor of Education	Light Blue Velvet	Light Blue Collar Panels and Sleeve Chevrons
Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine	Kelly Green Velvet	Kelly Green Velvet Collar Panels and Sleeve Chevrons
Doctor of Veterinary Medicine	Steel Gray Panels	Steel Gray Collar and Sleeve Chevrons
Master of Arts	White Collar
Master of Science	Golden Yellow Collar
